Chicago Fed President Goolsbee said he still believes the Fed can continue to cut interest rates after the uncertainty caused by tariff policy is resolved.

Bank of England (BOE) President Andrew Bailey said at a British parliamentary hearing that the central bank will continue to cut interest rates to respond to economic challenges, but the extent and speed of future rate cuts remain difficult to predict due to increased global economic uncertainty.

The eurozone's consumer price index (CPI) in May increased by 1.9% year-on-year, below the ECB's target of 2.0% and slower than 2.2% in April. This provides room for the European Central Bank (ECB) to cut interest rates again later this week.

The EU plans to restrict the entry of Chinese medical devices into the market.

It is said that US president will have telephone meeting with Chinese president this week. In late February, China announced that Trump would go to Beijing, but had not come true. US announced there would be a birthday party of Trump and Xi which in Mar-a-Lago for birthday of Trump is on Jun 14th and Xi on Jun 15th, but no further news because of tariff war.

Harvard since 2009

Harvard University is the oldest institute of higher education in US. It was established in 1636, even 140 years earlier than the Declaration of Independence of US. Just after World War II, there were 3 strongest universities in US which are Harvard University, Chicago University and Columbia University. Such a state lasted for the whole 20th century.

According to the Copilot of Microsoft, Harvard University holds the world record for the most Nobel Prize winners, with 121 Nobel laureates affiliated with the institution, then comes University of Cambridge (104), University of Chicago (98), Columbia University (87), University of California, Berkeley (83), and Massachusetts Institute of Technology (77). Since 2004, the first university ranking QS come into existence and several rankings come one by one. Harvard is the one that always ranked front-most including the average of 5 years, but recent years the rankings had a lot of ups and downs like the Dow Jones Index fluctuations.

Since 2009, Barrack Obama became the first African president of US. He had not asked for anything, but the society gave birth to DEI (Diversity, Equity and Inclusion). Originally, it is good to society, but when over-excursing it became horrible. US is the leader of world trend and Harvard is the leader for higher education. In a society of the white, it is really hard for the black to enter Harvard, unless he is as smart as Barrack Obama. Therefore Harvard gave some special seat to the black and lowered their requirement of admission. That means those disqualified black student can be admitted to Harvard, but on the other hand, the qualified white will be kept off. But this trend is growing further and further to other universities.

Even in the Royal Ballet of London, Romeo is a black, and in Disney, Princess Snow White is also a black. Those artists are first class artists, of course qualified to perform in Royal Ballet or Disneyland, but there are a lot of first class artists are expelled because they have to give way to the black. Furthermore is that they also admitted the brown and when the requirements are lowered, the Palestinian supported the terrorists Hamas to have demonstration and destruction in the campus. Hamas is defined as terrorist by UN and US. China took chance to support the enemy of US and let Harvard become a State school of China for external propaganda. In the eyes of Donald Trump, Harvard is the hotbed for crime and terrorism. He is not willing to let Hamas extend their terrorism and China extend their influence in US through Harvard, thus carried out the strictest policies of de-coupling and will have further action one after one.
