US President Trump deployed 2,000 National Guard troops to Los Angeles, California, to suppress protests. This is the first time in decades that a US president has sent troops into an emergency area without a request for support from the state government.

Before going to Camp David on Sunday, Trump said that there were many violent incidents in Los Angeles and he was closely watching the situation. If the country and citizens are in danger, the authorities will respond very strongly and will send all necessary forces to ensure law and order. California Governor Newsom criticized Trump's order to deploy the National Guard as an attempt to incite emotions and called on the public to remain calm and not use violence.

In its latest mid-term outlook report, Morgan Stanley expects the US dollar index to depreciate another 9% in the next 12 months.

NVIDIA CEO Jensen Huang warned that the UK lacks the digital infrastructure needed to develop AI, and British Prime Minister Keir Starmer has pledged to invest another 1 billion pounds to expand the UK's AI computing power.

The trade negotiations between the United States and Japan ended in a quarrel, but the leaders of both sides will meet during the G7 Canada Summit.

World Observation

Day 1203
Russia/Ukraine Conflict

Legal & Illegal Immigrants

America is a country made up of immigrants but not illegal immigrants. Why it is so strong in economy, technology, military and education.....? Because it absorb immigrants from all over the world including those in enemy state like China and Russia. Every scholar wishes to have deeper research and thus go to America for it is the concentration of talented people and can push each other upward. But no matter in which country or sector, everything must be legal and those illegal must filter out. Legal immigrants are making a long queue to work and live in US, but illegal immigrants are jumping the queue and should be filtered out.

How many illegal immigrants are there in US now? According to Microsoft Copilot approximately 18.6 million illegal immigrants reside in the U.S. as of March 2025, marking an 11% increase from mid-2023.

Donald Trump had set a target for Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) to arrest at least 3,000 migrants per day. If this target is met consistently, it would amount to over 1 million deportations per year. Altogether in his 2nd term of presidency can have 4 million deportations out of the 18.6 million.

In the last century, Wall Street is the center of US, but now Silicon Valley of California has more billionaire than Wall Street. You can say because of immigrants from all over the world. But they are legal and not illegal immigrants. Bay Area of San Francisco once was the busiest corner of West Coast, but now in day time 10 shops out of 9 were closed. Why? Because of “Zero Dollar Shopping”. That is illegal immigrants bring about bad order to the society. For shop lifting of under US$1000, they are not punished seriously, so people go to supermarkets and rob them just up to the amount of $950. Small and large shops are all in deficit and the only way is to close.

Law and order must resume. US still need large number of immigrants for lower cost and fighting against inflation. It's the colored people that will take up basic positions, the white would only take the position of manager or officer. In 1986, Ronald Regan granted legal status to 2.7 million undocumented immigrants who had entered the U.S. before 1982. But now US has 18.6 million undocumented immigrants. Investors please give advice to Donald Trump what he should do now!
