US President Trump again today demanded that Federal Reserve Chairman Jerome Powell cut interest rates and threatened to sue Powell over the Federal Reserve building renovations.

US Treasury Secretary Scott Bessant said interest rates are "too restrictive" and should probably be 150-175 basis points lower than current levels. In an interview with Bloomberg Television, Bessant said the Fed could implement a series of rate cuts in the coming months, starting with a 50 basis point cut in September.

Retail giant Walmart warned as early as May that higher tariffs would force the company to raise prices on a variety of items, from bananas to child car seats. American influencer Mercedes Chandler filmed a video showing her visits to supermarkets and noticing significant price changes, indicating that the tariffs are being passed on to consumers. In early August, she shared footage from her on-site visit to the US supermarket chain, showing that the price of children's clothing had increased from $6.98 to $10.98, a nearly 60% increase.

Citing two sources with direct knowledge of the matter, Reuters revealed that U.S. authorities secretly placed tracking devices in targeted shipments of advanced artificial intelligence (AI) semiconductors deemed at high risk of being illegally diverted to China. These measures, intended to detect whether AI chips were being diverted to destinations subject to U.S. export restrictions, only apply to the specific shipments under investigation.

A Bank of America report noted that the U.S. dollar has re-established a bearish trend following the significant downward revision of U.S. employment data in early August.

This rate seldom occur in CME probabilities, in the Sep 17th FOMC meeting target rate of cutting 12 base points is 99.9%, in Oct 29th again will cut 25 base points is 70.5%.

However, something more important than these tables is the Putin/Trump peace talk in Alaska this Friday.

Riding the AI Waves

(2) What is Artificial Intelligence?

Artificial Intelligence (AI) refers to the development of computer systems capable of performing tasks that typically require human intelligence, such as reasoning, learning, decision-making, and perception. Make it simple, AI is a computer platform that can think, different from Wiki just giving information, and can be said as advance version of Google search engine. That is after searching data, can also organize those data to help the decision making.

Investors at once would think of can they help us in stock trading? Take it easy, this question is not just a YES/NO answer. I will use several weeks to explain. But to the general public, it brings about the worry of unemployment. Nowadays, for job interview, there is a common question asked by the interviewer to the applicant. How would you use AI to improve your job and work for your future? As I have said, AI cannot replace your job, but a capable AI user can replace a non-capable user. This is the latest trend in the job market and latest problem for youngsters.

Let's start from Do Re Mi. First of all, do not just use any single AI platform only. A smart user should be familiar with several kinds of platform as seen in page 5 and 6. There are several platforms in the market, some are free of charge and some need to collect monthly fee. But if you are dissatisfied with them, normally you can get the refund. Please choose at least two for comparison so as to know more details. What you need is to understand and to try them first.
