North East West South is NEWS

US President Donald Trump dismissed Iran's response to a US proposal to end the war, calling it "completely unacceptable."

The British government announced that Britain and France will co-host a multinational defense ministers' meeting on the 12th to discuss military plans to restore trade flows in the Strait of Hormuz. Tehran warned London and Paris hours before the announcement against sending warships to the region.

Apple has reached a preliminary agreement with Intel to manufacture chips for Apple devices. This news caused Intel's stock price to surge 14% on Friday. Reports citing sources familiar with the matter said the two companies had been in intensive negotiations for over a year and finalized the agreement in recent months.

Despite major US stock indices nearing record highs and market optimism surrounding corporate profits and the AI investment boom, Grace Peters, global head of investment strategy at JPMorgan Private Bank (JPM-US), warns that geopolitical divisions, massive capital expenditures driven by AI, and persistent inflationary pressures are gradually reshaping the global market structure. Investors should not focus solely on short-term market movements while ignoring the profound changes occurring beneath the surface.

AI leaders are being reshuffled! Funds are withdrawing from Nvidia and snapping up four hardware giants. Chip giants AMD (AMD-US) and Intel (INTC-US) surged approximately 25% last week, memory giant Micron (MU-US) soared over 37%, and fiber optic cable maker Corning (GLW-US) climbed about 18%. All four companies have more than doubled their market capitalization this year, with Intel showing the strongest performance, rising over 200%. In contrast, Nvidia has only risen 15% since 2026, just slightly outperforming the Nasdaq index.

Panic Buying is on the way, who says "Sell in May & Go away"

NACHO trading (Never A Chance Hormuz Opens)

Not easy to wait for Fibonacci series of adjustment, market is in Fear Of Missing Out (FOMO)

UAP trading will make a lot of stocks rocket up.

World Observation

Day 1539
Russia/Ukraine Conflict

Unidentified Anomalous Phenomena (U A P)

Market is still in panic buying, no more people would say Sell in May and Go Away! Why is the Hormuz Strait being put aside? Why could the war in Ukraine not catch attention anymore? For the coming G2 meeting in Beijing is more important, for the greatest IPO ever in history of SpaceX is running nearer and nearer, with runners-up of Open AI and Anthropic. Above all, another historic and juicy scenario is the UAP!

What is UAP? Investors must keep up with time, once the UFO (Unidentified Flying Object) was a famous term because of Hollywood movies, later on such a term had been changed to the current UAP of Unidentified Aerial Phenomena. The scope is broader, for it does not point to flying object only, the meaning of aerial phenomena can include natural scenario, not just artificial object. Later on, changed aerial to anomalous, which means not normal or not regular, even a broader scope just to skip off superstition or blind followers.

Donald Trump likes to have decryption on confidential files, such as Epstein already aroused great attention. The assassination of John Kennedy was not cared so much, maybe it is for those who really lived in the 1960s would have more interest including the assassination of Robert Kennedy. The 1960s was my era when I really saw the moon rock face to face, within a distance of less than a meter. Now few people could have a chance to see it, but in that era, a lot of famous universities of the world could get a moon rock from NASA and had great discussions and exhibitions. Explanations from professors of Geology were very common, but nowadays only occur in top class universities. One of the hottest topics is aliens. Are there any aliens? Now we can get the answer from NASA and not Hollywood movies.

Why did humans stop journeying to the Moon after Apollo 17 and the rest of the projects were cancelled? The most common answer was that there was no competition because the Soviet Union was completely defeated in the Space Race. But the decryption of Apollo 17 was when the crew members got a very strong light when they were on the Moon, aliens did not use any language, but brain sense contact to ask them to go away. Therefore, the project to the Moon was held for more than half a century.

Now there are several kinds of responses, one being said that it is true, there are really some aliens and we have to wait for further decryption. Another group is that it may be misleading, we still need to use scientific methods to watch the rest of the files. What we can see now is just part of the truth and not integral truth. Basically, people like to hear the news that there are really some aliens and we have to discuss how to face them. Another group of people would say it is a great disappointment that the news was misleading or misunderstanding. It brings a lot of people to frustration.

So, what is the standpoint of the writer, again and again the same standpoint. It is written on the wall. No need to know whether it is true or false, you only need to know the impact on the US stocks market. How it would make some stocks to rocket up and some dip down. This is the most important thing. Whether it is true or false, let specialists have their debate, investors should take chances to earn money. One more point is that under such a case, you must increase your space knowledge or know more on basic theories of Financial Astrology, don't do any copy trade this time. When facing such a large and historic question, copy trade will be of the lowest class, must have your own research on impact of the market and use your own knowledge to know how to get wealthier in such an historic wave.

Donald Trump's UAP disclosure effort is expected to take years, not months, because it involves tens of millions of records across multiple agencies. Thousands of files remain undisclosed, and the societal impact could range from scientific breakthroughs to public anxiety and geopolitical shifts. war.gov +2

Timeline for Decryption & Disclosure

- Directive issued (Feb 19, 2026): Trump ordered agencies to identify and release UAP-related files.
- Scope: Tens of millions of records, many only on paper, spanning decades.
- Process: Rolling releases every few weeks, beginning May 8, 2026.
- Estimated Duration: Given the scale, experts expect multi-year disclosure, with full transparency unlikely before the end of Trump's current term. war.gov

How Many Files Remain Undisclosed?

- Historical backlog:
 - Project Blue Book (1947–1969): 12,618 cases, 701 unresolved.
 - Modern Pentagon reports: Over 2,000 UAP cases logged by AARO as of early 2026.
- Unresolved files: Thousands remain classified or "pending verification."
- Rolling releases: The Department of War confirmed that unresolved cases will be prioritized, but the majority are still locked. ufodataalive.com +1

Potential Societal Effects

Positive Outcomes

- Scientific progress: Access to sensor data, radar logs, and unexplained aerial phenomena could accelerate aerospace research and AI-driven analysis.
- Transparency: Public trust in government may improve if disclosure is seen as genuine.
- Private-sector innovation: Companies may use declassified data to develop new technologies (e.g., propulsion, surveillance).

Risks & Challenges

 GPT-5 is here - OpenAI

- Public anxiety: Sudden revelations of unexplained phenomena could fuel fear, conspiracy theories, or religious debates.
- Geopolitical tension: If UAPs are linked to foreign adversaries, disclosure could heighten military competition.
- Information overload: Tens of millions of records may overwhelm the public, requiring expert interpretation.

Summary Table

Aspect	Current Status	Outlook
Timeline	Rolling releases every few weeks	Multi-year process
Files undisclosed	Tens of millions; thousands unresolved	Gradual declassification
Scientific impact	Potential breakthroughs in aerospace & AI	Long-term innovation
Societal impact	Transparency vs. anxiety	Depends on framing & pace
Geopolitical impact	Possible military implications	Risk of escalation

✓ Conclusion: Trump's UAP disclosure is historic but slow-moving. With thousands of files still locked, society should brace for a gradual drip of revelations. The effects will depend heavily on whether disclosures are framed as scientific opportunities or existential threats.
