Market Observation

Day	1549
Russia/Ukraine Conflict

Magnificent 7 & Magnificent 10

After the pandemic, the market emerged a group of leading stocks which are the MMAAGNT, it is made up of MSFT, META, AAPL, AMZN, GOOG NVDA, TSLA. These 7 stocks occupied 50% of NASDAQ 100 index and are the leader of NASDAQ, in turn the leader of the whole US market and in turn further extended to the leader of the world stock market.

Mind that such words of MMAAGNT had no special meaning, later people picked up a Hollywood movie in the 1960s which is known as The Magnificent Seven to name these stocks. It is a movie about cowboys and one of the famous peculiarities is that a cowboy's flying dagger is faster than a pistol. Showing that these cowboys are always something surprising. The orchestral theme is also very famous. Once there was a renowned cigarette named Marlboro, it was designed for ladies, but later on they want to extend the market to men as it will be broader. The advertisement used the theme of Magnificent Seven and the scene was of cowboys holding a flying rope loop to run for horses as in the movie. Later on successfully turned this brand into the market of men, and in the 1980s, it was the hottest cigarette brand in China and Hong Kong.

Mind that the current bull market started rising in the Orionid Meteor Shower of Oct 2022. At that time NVDA only ranked number 5 in the MMAAGNT, but I strongly suggested buying it at $12.09. If you missed it, never mind. A lot of chances are coming, just improve your personal better so that you can catch sight of such news and take action on relevant suggestions and would skip off non-profit making suggestions. When it is listed as the Big 7 at that time, there should be a lot of analysts recommending this stock.

But now the Magnificent 10 is coming, the ticker not yet confirmed, 3 more stocks will be added which are AMD, PLTR and AVGO. However, the writer always emphasizes not to do copy trade and must have research on your own. What are the points needed to mind? TSM is not listed among the Magnificent 7 or 10. How could it be? Some people said TSM will be the next NVDA, and some said AMD or AVGO will be the next NVDA.

One more point is that, there will be a star of tomorrow which is SPCX. The largest IPO in history. How can we put that aside?

When people ask if the Magnificent 10 is worth buying, you can reply: why no SPCX and TSM? I always insist the focus of investment should be among the Top 10 market capitalization and if we want to find stars of tomorrow, should be among the Top 20. But when you want to have defensive stocks when facing recent record high scenario, they should be the ETF of 3 major indexes like QQQ, VOO and DIA.

Mind that among the Top 20 of the world, they are all US stocks but 1 from Taiwan, 1 from Saudi and 2 from Korea. Regretfully, the 2 most populous countries which are India and China were kicked off and no need to care about them in the money market. That is better forget stocks in the NASDAQ Golden Dragon Index, concentrate on top 10 of today and top 20 of tomorrow, no need to care which country they are from. If they are from top 10, must have some peculiars we need to mind, including top 10 of Press Freedom Index, Anti-corruption Index or even Top 10 best airlines or top 10 airports.....etc

NVDA now is selling on good news, it is a common practice since the Harvest Moon of November 2025 for the sowing period started in October 2022. They are getting harvest now, including TSLA and other famous stocks. What the market concern most is not the peace talk in Iran, whether the oil price or opening of Hourmuz are just secondary factors. The IPO of SPCX is above all, and related space industry stocks will replace the war in Iran and Ukraine.
